Housing for New Hope Wednesday night the Dove House had the pleasure of hosting guests from St. Stephen's Women's Group and the Duke Center for Documentary Studies. The theme of the night was stories. All shared stories of hope, humor, and fellowship over a delicious homemade dinner. We made new friends, met old friends, and had a fabulous time. Thanks to all of our guests.

Jessie Hughes Our dinner date was awesome! The Dove Sisters were as upbeat and energetic as ever, even after the huge delicious meal they prepared. Our new friends from Duke, Alex and Liisa fit right in and have some great ideas about a documentary project with HNH. We are excited to see what will happen with the project and are already looking forward to our next gathering with the Dove Sisters. Good Times!

Housing for New Hope Today's Former Staff Spotlight: Emily Carmody...She filled many roles in her two years with us, most prominently having great success helping disabled homeless access the income they deserve. She's moved on to the NC Coalition to End Homelessness (www.nceh.org), where she will continue to fight the good fight across the state. We miss you already, Emily.

Terry Allebaugh Had the opportunity to see Emily in action at her new job as we met with a State official on Tuesday. She's hit the floor running, though I must say her shoe and clothing style have changed as moves from tromping the woods to clomping down hallways that echo. Clomp onward...

Goings and Comings

While we will miss Emily, we will be in frequent contact with her in her new role at the North Carolina Coalition to End Homelessness.

We are happy to announce that Spencer Cook has joined us to fill Emily's position as benefits specialist.

Also, Joi Stepney joins us as communications assistant, replacing Brian Marsh, who is now property manager at Williams Square.

Welcome, Spencer and Joi!
